INTRODUCTION

Far Cry™ is a tactical, first-person perspective action game set in a tropical paradise. Throughout play you will be informed of the story and objectives by occasional video sequences and prompts on the heads up display (HUD).

Stranded in Paradise...

Jack Carver has left his mysterious and bitter past behind and dropped out of society to run a boat-charter business in the South Pacific. He is hired by Valerie Constantine to take her secretly to an uncharted island in Micronesia. After Val is safely delivered to the island, Jack's boat is suddenly attacked by mercenaries. Jack manages to escape but is stranded thousands of miles from home. With his only friend lost somewhere in the depths of the jungle he must now find his way back to civilisation.

Multiplayer

For more detailed multiplayer resources please visit the official Far Cry website at:

Game Modes

Far Cry has three multiplayer game modes. Each mode has different strategic requirements, which are especially important for the class based team modes.

Multiplayer Game Modes

- FFA (Free for all): There are no teams. The player with the most kills wins.
- TDM (Team Deathmatch): Teams compete to score kills or frags. The team with the most kills wins.
- Assault: One team must lead an assault on a defensive position held by the other team.

Joining a Team

At the Limbo screen, you can select which team to join and also your character class (if appropriate). You can return to the Limbo screen during play, but you will be vulnerable to attack.

Character Classes

Character classes are used in the Assault modes only. In these modes, players choose character class and team allegiance in the Limbo screen before spawning into the game.

Player Classes

Grunt: The grunt is the toughest of soldiers, with the best of weapons. This class is ideally suited to combat.

Sniper: The sniper is at his best when hidden away from the heat of battle, where he can use the deadly sniper rifle to support other soldiers.

Support: The support class character is very handy for building and repairing bases. He is equipped with health packs to heal the wounded on your team, and he is capable of destroying enemy buildings.

DEFAULT CONTROLS

L and R mean Left and Right in the case of mouse buttons or repeated keys such as Shift or Ctrl. MB stands for Mouse Button; MW for Mouse Wheel. Other keys are named by their label on a standard QWERTY keyboard. Default 2 is an alternative setting and is not necessarily bound.

Some features may not be implemented at the time of this manual's release (or ever). These controls are not included in the manual.
